ABSTRACT

In contemporary society, there exists a significant level of enthusiasm surrounding games, which extends beyond just entertainment and encompasses various other domains, including employment prospects and opportunities within the realm of e-sports.

Nowadays, the gaming industry is booming with multiple hierarchies, and technological improvements have changed the way games are presented as entertainment. As a modern person, you must have seen and played video games. Because they are such an important part of our life. For that Saurashtra University is providing many courses of computers for students are take the chance for practical knowledge of website and software making.

We are very delighted to have part of this Saurashtra University in BCA course in this University, We had a great chance to develop the software for practical knowledge.

Yours Faithfully,
Bhatt Vishwas U.
Sankhat Darshan K.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In every project, a team of individuals collaborates, and the success of each project is mostly attributed to the motivation, direction, and continuous support provided by these individuals.

PURPOSE OF PROJECT

- The primary objective of the online gaming accessories shop is to enhance the convenience of customers throughout the purchase process.
- The availability of online gaming accessories allows users to conveniently access and see products from any location.

For operating and establishing this project, we are having some

❖ OBJECTIVES:

- I. With the objective to generating financial gain with minimal capital expenditure.
- II. In an effort to meet the needs and expectations of our customers, we strive to offer high-quality services at competitive prices.
- III. The administration of services at a minimal cost while maintaining high quality standards.

❖ SCOPE OF PROJECT:

- The system is responsible for managing customer products, item categories, and item data, as well as order tracking and updating.
- The primary objective of this project is to establish and manage a comprehensive database for product records and customer records.
- Therefore, this project has the potential to be utilized in any gaming accessories shops as a means of efficiently managing their records.

2) OLD SYSTEM ANALYSIS

After determining whether, to what extent, and how analysis should be used, it is common to conduct an analysis of the existing system and design a new one.

2.1 STUDY OF OLD SYSTEM:

- We must acknowledge that outmoded systems create numerous problems.
- Thus, we decided to create a new endeavor with the finest amenities.
- Several vulnerabilities in the current system were identified, and some objectives were initiated. The following describes these.

➤ Problem or weakness in the manual system:

- 1) It requires considerable effort.
- 2) The new system demands objectives.
- 3) Each user's information needs to be stored manually.
- 4) It is difficult to rapidly identify available products, their quantities, and item descriptions.

2.2 PROBLEMS AND WEAKNESS IN OLD SYSTEM:

- Although the current system has many features, it also has a number of flaws.
- The primary issue with the current system is that it contains a great deal of unnecessary information that does not captivate the user.
- If we are unable to update frequently, the web-based system will quickly become obsolete.

Therefore, it requires upkeep.

3) SCOPE OF NEW SYSTEM

- Display additional information regarding the content of the products.

These specifics are easily understood by all customers.

- As a website, it has a unique effect on consumers who purchase products from it and attracts them with its features and user-friendly environment.
- The new system contains several novel features. The system is user-friendly and displays every order detail and status of customers.

4.2 FEASIBILITY STUDY:

- A study conducted to determine the practicality of a project, assessing whether it is worthwhile to proceed with its implementation or not.

The term used to refer to this process is known as feasibility study.

- There are three elements in the feasibility study portion of the initial study:

❖ Technical Feasibility

- Hardware Requirement

CPU - Intel(R) core(TM) i5-2400 CPU @ 3.10GHz RAM - 4.00GB

- Software Requirement

Browser - Mozilla, Chrome & etc.xampp-v.3.2.2

- Network Requirement: Internet connection

❖ Economic Feasibility

- Hard disk drive

Gb-500

Price-1599/-

- Random access memory

Gb-4(DDR-3)

Price-1400/-

- Operating System

Windows8.1 pro (64bit)

Price-8000/-

❖ ANALYSIS:

Visitors shop name:

JAY CHAMUNDA GAMES STORE,

KHODIYAR COLONY, JAMNAGAR-361 006,

Contact: +91-9924632581

- We visited this shop to gather a lot of details regarding to our project.
- During our conversation, we have thoroughly discussed upon our products and collected an important amount of information, including the number of companies now operating within the store etc.
- We have received many information and features about console, controller, monitor, discs, handhelds etc.
- We seek information regarding the present promotion being implemented on all customer orders for products.
- We had inquired about the preferences of customers regarding the various possibilities available for purchasing things.

❖ DESIGN:

- We have designed login form that caters both the admin side and the user side.
- We developed admin panel that handles all functionality within the project.

From the perspective of the user

- A registration form was developed for users.
- We designed feedback form for users.
- We have developed a system of categorization that encompasses a wide range of products.
- Additionally, we have developed items across other categories.

❖ CODING:

- The entire project is developed using the PHP Programming language.
- We provide illustrative instances of website pages
 - index.php
 - register.php
 - login.php
 - product.php

8) MAINTENANCE

- We provide comprehensive security measures for user login. On the website, only individuals who have been granted authorization are able to place orders, while users who have not logged in or registered are unable to put their orders.
- Furthermore, it is more imperative that we continue to uphold and ensure the preservation of our security measures in the foreseeable future.
- We shall endeavor to consistently update and include new features and products on a regular basis.
- If user have any queries, they can provide feedback using our “Contact Us” page. For complaints users have the option to either visit our physical store or send an email, the details of which can found on our “About Us” page in our website.

9) LIMITATION AND FEATURES FOR FUTURE ENHANCEMENT

❖ LIMITATION:

- All applications and system possess built-in limitations that are common across various software platform. Every software or application possess natural limits.
- I have made a concerted effort to stick to all the restrictions outlined in this context. However, I encountered certain challenges that impeded my ability to fully address certain of these restrictions. These challenges were mostly attributed to the complexity of my coursework, the time constraints imposed, and my level of expertise in the subject matter.
- As a result, my application has some limitations.
 - 1) Managing huge database poses significant challenges.
 - 2) It is advisable to refresh the record source after each transaction.
 - 3) The validation of data types is limited by time constraints, preventing the provision of an in-depth list of valid data types and their corresponding lengths.

❖ FUTURE ENHANCEMENTS:

- In the future, it is anticipated that the MYSQL database system will be capable of supporting a sustainable no. of databases without encountering any issues.
- Like the mentioned system, not all facilities are encompassed by it as a result of limitations in knowledge and time.
- The current iteration of this application has undergone significant improvements in the terms of user-friendliness, allowing users to efficiently navigate and interact with its interface by utilizing keyboard inputs as an alternative to relying solely on a mouse.
- However, we have also implemented upgrades on this website to ensure that all clients have access to see and purchase products from our platform.
- In the future, we aim to integrate hardware products into our online store and provide further user-friendly features.
- The concept of completeness is absent in the world. There are also errors present in our website. Efforts will be made to reduce and eliminate them.
- We will endeavor to provide an online payment feature.

10) CONCLUSION

- The primary objective of the website is to streamline the process of accessing and presenting detailed information.
- In this website all the records are stored in database so it is very simple to store the data and manage data. This feature proves to be useful for administrators who wish to preserve and organize their desired information.
- Additionally, the user interface is designed in a manner that facilitates easy comprehension and navigation.
- Data security: It is safe. Only admins with a login name and password can perform data backup and restoration tasks. The admin must enter a password in order to run the program. If any user tries to login with its username and password then it won't work.
- Future Scope: In terms of future prospects, it is recommended to enhance the management of records inside the database, particularly considering the potential increase in data volume, including both user-specific information and overall database size.
